DATE: 17-29. July, 2012.

The aim of our project is to develop personalities and competences in riding.

Our project is a trilateral youth exchange, involving youngsters from Croatia, Hungary and Austria. Each country will be represented by 6 participants (aged between 12 and 17) and one group leader.

Main themes of our project are education through sport, outdoor activities and youth leisure.

We intend to include people with fewer opportunities (with social or economical or geographical obstacles).

The objectives of our project are to gather young people with similar age and riding experience to share their opinion, to discuss project's themes with young people of different countries, to open intercultural intercourse, to offer outdoor activities (riding) and to develop skills, competence and personalities.

Our methods include non-formal learning (education through outdoor activities, mainly activities around horses and riding), some individual work (workshops in groups, role-plays and round-tables??). Activities are in the line of the themes, through which we intend to gain more effective outcome. The themes will be culture, social relationships, horses, behavior and riding.
